

About the SEMINAR

The NAAC-sponsored National Seminar on "Post NAAC Accreditation Scenario in Higher Education Institution", will provide the much needed platform for a brainstorming session to stir up the continued effort of the Head of institutions, IQAC team members, teachers and other associated people for improvement of a higher educational institute (HEI) in the subsequent phase after an accreditation process. The assessment and accreditation processes have proved to be very effective in grading the HEIs. At the same time for the subsequent cycles it has great relevance in up-gradation of HEIs. Clearly, there is indeed a need to ensure that the gusto of the team effort is maintained all along. Studies reveals that for a good number of HEIs in India including that in Northeast India, that have been assessed and accredited and fared satisfactorily in the first cycle, but have failed to make any improvement in subsequent assessments or rather maintain the initial standards resulting in being graded down. There is, thus, an utmost need to ensure that a quality improvement subsequent to the accreditation process is undertaken by an HEI. Contribution from different stakeholders, e.g., teaching and non-teaching staff, HEI administrations, governments, guardians and alumni etc. The actual objective of accreditation processes - continuous quality improvements of HEIs can be ensured only through such combined effort. This seminar throws open a platform for participants to share their valuable opinions and expertise gathered through firsthand experience for the steps and methods that can be adopted for quality improvement to pave way for embracing necessary measures first to maintain and then push for further improvement of the HEIs. Consequently, the stakeholders will be aware of their roles and responsibilities and the various possibilities for quality improvement in the post accreditation scenario. So, the positive impact of this conference on quality improvement in post-accreditation scenario will light up the path for HEIs of India, especially for HEIs of Northeast which have their own constraints and challenges resulting in better grades in subsequent accreditations and assessments.

ABOUT THE INSTITUTION

Beltola College founded on November 18 in the year 1983 stands at the south-eastern edge of Guwahati, the metropolitan capital city of Assam. It is a premier co-educational degree college imparting higher education in eight subjects apart from a few certificate courses. The college was subsequently affiliated to Gauhati University. The College is surrounded by several educational institutions, which speaks about the conducive academic atmosphere. The institution has been playing an important role in catering to the educational needs of the backward section of the society from its adjoining border area population as well as from North Eastern States.

The College is situated about a kilometer from the National highway 37. The distance from the airport is 30 km, from railway station it is 11 km, from ISBT (Inter State Bus Terminus) it is 8 km, from Khanapara, the entry point from upper Assam the distance is 4 km. There are quite a few budget hotels and also high end hotels located near the college.

The institution was recently accredited B+ Grade by NAAC in its first cycle of assessment.
